

You can receive up to 50% credit for the points deducted on your midterm. To do so, do the following:

1. Pick up your graded midterm.
2. Identify the problems where you need extra credit.
3. Redo the problem making sure the new solution is correct and that you have provided sufficient work to show how you arrived at the new solution.
4. Turn in both the original midterm and the redo solutions (via canvas or in person).
